

AMERICAN LEGION OF OGDEN COMPLETES PLANS FOR ITS CELEBRATING ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice day will be celebrated throughout the world during the month of November and local members of the American Legion have started plans for one of the greatest days in the city's history. On November 11, 1918, the great world war ended, the boys of khaki and blue were in the fray, some thousands of miles from their loved ones, others on the battlefields of France and still others aboard one of Uncle Sam's battleships, awaiting action on the high seas.

These men were not home when the great day was celebrated in 1918, and for that reason they should have one wonderful time when the Armistice day of 1919 is celebrated.

Plans for Celebration.
The committee members of the American Legion in Ogden met at the University club last night and completed plans for the coming celebration. Chairman Lester Hinchcliffe, of the music committee, has arranged a program of varied events for the morning celebration, which will include a community sing and a band concert. Folk songs will be sung.

A varied program of athletic events, including a five-mile marathon from North Ogden into Ogden, a soccer football game, a football game, and a number of track and field events have been arranged for the afternoon's entertainment by the athletic committee. It is expected that thousands of visitors will attend the games. The feature football game of the day will be the contest between the Utah Aggie Freshmen and the local American Legion team. Carnival features and other attractions will also rule. The program will conclude with a dance in the evening.

POLITICS, PATRIOTISM AND RELIGION TO BE SUBJECT OF SUNDAY EVENING SERMON

At the First Congregational church tomorrow the minister, the Rev. Godfrey Matthews, will commence at the morning service a series of sermons dealing with the church and its place in the modern world. All members of the church and congregation are asked especially to attend and make the services known.

At the evening service, commencing at 7:30, the minister will give another of a series of addresses for the time, the subject being "Three misused words and their root idea—Politics, Patriotism and Religion."

"In the clash of political controversy," said Rev. Matthews this morning, "there is nothing more common than the misuse of great words. Characters and defamed, motives impugned, social standing degraded by the deliberate misuse of great words. Let a man stand for righteousness strongly and somebody will call him a socialist. Let him plead the right of another nation's life and somebody will call him disloyal. Let him speak a word for any oppressed idea, or nation, or cause, and there will be those who will seek to do him harm. For nations, as for individuals, nothing more is needed to make them great than the exercise of a thoroughgoing honesty of purpose and purity of desire. If the poet was right when he said 'An honest man's the noblest work of God,' it is not too much to say 'An honest nation is a very great blessing to mankind.'"
